

CALL FOR SUBMISSIONS

To: Hospitals, Healthcare Institutions and Health Management Organizations
From: Longwoods Publishing and the Ontario Hospital Association (OHA)

2008 Ted Freedman Award for Innovation in Education

Longwoods Publishing, in cooperation with the OHA, is looking for the best 'Innovation in Education' program that advocates and enables education in health, health services or health management at a healthcare organization.

We invite you to submit your program to Lina at Llopez@longwoods.com.
The submission deadline is Friday, September 05, 2008.

Submission Guidelines

This is a wide-open competition. Any individual or any group can submit electronically. Adjudicators will look at the Innovation in Education that meets all of the following criteria:

- The value of the Innovation as an agent of change
- The evidence to substantiate the Innovation
- The outcomes to substantiate the Innovation
- Appropriate use of technology

Your response to these touchstones is critical. Supporting links to web pages, charts, graphs or other visuals may be submitted.

Electronic submissions should be in English only and a maximum of 750 words. Please provide us with a complete name, title, organization and contact information.

The winner of the beautiful Ted Freedman Award will receive a certificate, exquisitely framed and an all expenses paid trip for two to HealthAchieve2008, November 3 to 5, 2008, in Toronto, Ontario. The winner will be announced in front of 2000 delegates at the grand plenary session concluding the proceedings.
