

Working Together To Prevent And Manage Chronic Disease:

IDEAS, INNOVATION, AND INSIGHT

FRIDAY, MAY 23, 2008

REGISTRATION FORM

Chronic diseases account for the largest proportion of death and disease burden nationally and provincially. The prevention and management of chronic disease to improve population health is an Ontario health system priority.

The Ontario Hospital Health Promotion Network (OHHPN) and St. Joseph's Health Centre, Toronto, are pleased to host this one-day conference for health system providers from across sectors to work on practical relationships to provide an integrated, system response to chronic disease prevention and management.
