

CALL FOR PAPERS

World Health & Population (WHP) is seeking submission of original manuscripts from researchers and policy specialists worldwide on issues of importance in health and population, including: reproductive and women's health, social determinants of health, HIV/AIDS, malaria. The mission of WHP is as follows:

World Health and Population (WHP) provides a forum for researchers and policy makers worldwide to publish original research, reviews and opinions on health- and population-related topics. WHP encourages the conduct and dissemination of applied research and policy analysis from diverse international settings. It is the goal of WHP to explore ideas, share best practices and enable excellence in healthcare worldwide through publishing contributions by researchers, policy makers and practitioners from these settings.

WHP has been committed to supporting and encouraging applied research and policy analysis from diverse international settings for over 15 years. Manuscripts from more than 20 different countries and four continents have been submitted to WHP in the past year. Guidelines for submission of manuscripts are found on the WHP website, and all submissions are subject to editorial and external peer review.

WHP is indexed by MEDLINE, CAB Abstracts, Global Health, and Ulrich's. Citations from articles, indexing terms, and the abstract are all now searchable using PUBMED, offering significant visibility for the journal and its contributors.

WHP welcomes submissions from faculty, research associates, outside collaborators, and advanced graduate students. Submissions can take the form of original research, editorials, and scholarly reviews. Finally, we are always seeking peer reviewers who share the philosophy of working with authors submitting manuscripts to WHP, in order to strengthen the depth and quality of research from diverse settings around the world. For further information please consult the website and complete the WHP Reviewer Profile.

Please feel free to contact us if you have any comments, questions, or suggestions. We look forward to many interesting and important submissions.
