

CIRP

Circumcision Information and Resource Pages

Listed in the British Medical Journal

The Circumcision Information and Resource Pages are an Internet resource that provide you with information about all aspects of the genital surgery known as circumcision.

CIRP is essentially divided into two parts:

The Circumcision Reference Library contains technical material, medical and historical articles, and statistics.

The Circumcision Information Pages contain a more readable collection of information, suitable for parents and educators.

This site has links to information on the rights of the child, religious issues, and related issues.

\(SEARCH THIS SITE\)

>Circumcision Reference Library<

Circumcision Information Pages

These information pages are a readable introduction to the subject of circumcision. They are intended to complement the technical literature that is available in the Circumcision Reference Library.

Whether or not circumcision should be performed is a controversial question, especially as religious issues may be involved. One of the aims of the Circumcision Information Pages is to provide parents with information to assist them, if and when they are confronted with this question. Parents are especially referred to the FAQ, or Frequently Asked Questions file.

This site has links to information on the rights of the child, religious issues, and related issues.

Where can I find it?

Here is the table of contents for the Circumcision Information Pages.

- Information for parents
- Circumcision Reference Library
- Anatomy of the Penis and Mechanics of Intercourse: An Illustrated Guide
- What happens during a circumcision?
- Foreskin Restoration
- Rationales for Routine Circumcision
- Cultural and Religious Issues
- Female Circumcision
- Declaration of the First International Symposium on Circumcision

- Literature about circumcision
 - Circumcision in the News
 - Book Reviews
 - Readers' Feedback
 - Links to excellent material located elsewhere
 - List of publications, information and resource centers
-

Please visit our sponsor

Featured Offsite Links:

The Eighth International Symposium on Circumcision and Human Rights

University of Padua, Italy, September 2–4, 2004

\(conference brochure in PDF format\)

Court Challenge

Website of the Association for Genital Integrity (Canada).
Information and supporting documentation concerning the upcoming court challenge of circumcision in Canada.
(February 12, 2001)

Ridged Band

A site focused on anatomy, and the role of the foreskin's ridged band in sexual arousal.

(March 2001)

MUSIC

(Musicians United to Stop Involuntary Circumcision)
Read about the events that took place during *Genital Integrity
Awareness Week*, April 1-8, 2001

Intact

A new organization in Toronto, Canada
(Lawrence Barichello)

InformedConsent.org

Dedicated to improving the process of informed consent for medical procedures.
(Eileen Marie Wayne, MD)

The Circumcision Information and Resource Pages are a not-for-profit educational resource and library. Tilted Media Group, Inc. is not responsible for the content of this site. CIRP makes documents available without charge, for informational purposes only. The contents of this site are not intended to replace the professional medical or legal advice of a licensed practitioner.

Send feedback to <cirp-comments@cirp.org>

(Revised 8 February 2003)