

The monument "100 Workers" by John Scott is located on Front Street between Blue Jay's Way and University Avenue in Toronto. Below are some of the one hundred plaques topping the granite wall.

Royden L. Hudd
Crushed under freight train
Died October 14, 1927

Philip Romano
Struck by buffer beam of engine
Died June 16, 1924

William Pickard
Constable killed by gunshot while making an arrest
Died April 17, 1922

Ferdinand Quevillon
Killed when sleigh broke through ice
Died February 2, 1921

Arthur Manning
Killed in an explosion in explosives company
Died April 27, 1920

Nathaniel Bronn
Drowned in canoe accident
Died May 23, 1919

John Gouchie
Lung cancer
Died April 28, 1989

Marvin Martin
Electrocuted
Died December 5, 1988

Charles Wiffen
Silicosis
Died April 28, 1977

Joseph Schnur
Asbestosis
Died July 25, 1974

Wayne Ferguson
Nitrogas explosion
Died July 6, 1973

Daniel Renaghan
Crushed by derailed boxcar
Died March 6, 1967

A Tribute to Our Unsung Heroes

In 2003 more than 900 people died in Canada as a result of work-related accidents or illnesses. This means that, on average, almost four workers are killed every working day. Close to 350,000 others were injured seriously enough to prevent them from reporting to work for at least one day. It is estimated that nearly one million work-related injuries and illnesses are reported each year in Canada.

In this issue of Healthcare Quarterly we salute the unsung heroes. The Workers.

A separate but attached, monument, "Anonymity of Prevention", by Derek Lo and Lana Winkler shows a worker with proper safety equipment.

Surinder Mann Crushed by 600 lb. slab that shot out of large press Died April 18, 1997	Joseph Côté Pinned between tractor, scoop and ramp Died February 9, 1998	Ronald Girard Caught in an underground explosion Died May 18, 1996	Ghislain Deshaies Pinned under forklift Died January 12, 1995	Sean Kells Engulfed in flames in a chemical explosion Died November 19, 1994	Dennis Wilbur Explosion at a fruit juice company Died May 29, 1990
Frank Jenner Crushed in elevator accident Died May 31, 1918	Stephen Bartholomew Fell into an elevator shaft Died February 16, 1915	James Harnby Fell from a brewery truck Died September 12, 1913	Andrew Harwood Joseph Boyer Frank Lowe Crew of tugboat drowned on Lime Island Died November 3, 1911	Sandy Christie Explosion at silver leaf mine Died February 3, 1912	James Cook Crushed by a boiler plate while it was being moved Died November 30, 1910